

I recently spoke at a well-attended talk for Parents in Kildare with Joe McCormack.

I was impressed with Joe's delivery, ability to connect with parents and his unique insights in how to support your child through difficult exam periods. Joe's book 'How to Ace the Leaving Certificate' offers some well thought out, practical and holistic advice for both parents and students in secondary school.

In addition, the information in Joe's book is quite Dyslexic friendly and focuses on the individual achievements of a child and encourages parent's to focus on personal goals. It was a pleasure to hear Joe speak and to gain some valuable, evidence-based and practical advice from him. We wish Joe the best of luck in his endeavours.

Kind regards

Amy Smyth

Information & Advocacy Coordinator